Hit the Deck

Summit Furniture turns your patio from meh to magnificent.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT patio or deck furniture for your home can often be a struggle between form, function, and price. You want something that looks great, but you also need something that can withstand anything nature throws at it. The folks at Summit Furniture understand all of this. Integrating American and European designers, Summit offers an elegant array of luxurious teak furniture that matches almost every style of outdoor setting. Pieces can be found in homes and clubs all over the world, as well as aboard private yachts and luxury cruise lines.

Alwy Visschedyk, one of Summit's five designers and a native of Holland, adds his personal taste to the company's lavish yet modern designs. Visschedyk recently combined his artistic eye and design skills to produce Summit's newest collection, Smoothie, which features geometric angles that exude a sense of simplicity.

The Smoothie collection is made up of five pieces of plantation-grown teak. Visschedyk designed two chairs with lush, pearl-white cushions for comfortable lounging, as well as a matching footrest. The two tables in the collection have similar qualities, yet each has a unique shape. However, they provide the same purpose: to showcase high-end magazines, manicured toes, or venti-sized lattes from Starbucks in style. The pieces in this collection have the ability to turn any standard room or patio into a sophisticated, welcoming environment. 831-375-7811, summitfurniture.com. —Lauren Carelli
